OPTIMMUNIZE:

IMPROVING THE BENEFICIAL EFFECTS OF VACCINES

19 – 21 February 2020 Wellcome Genome Campus, UK

The conference aims at improving the understanding of interactions between vaccines and the immune system, with a focus on the non-specific and sex-differential effects of vaccines. This will include their impact on neonates and infants, how generalisable and durable these effects are, the implications for geriatric and veterinary medicine, and why non-specific effects should differ between sexes and across the lifespan.

KEY TOPICS

- Importance of non-specific effects of vaccines
- · Evidence from clinical trials
- · Effects of vaccines on the epigenome
- Sex differences in immunity and response to vaccines
- Potential off-target use of vaccines
- · Vaccination of the elderly
- New vaccines/testing products in pipeline
